THE SCOGGIN CLOGGERS

Kick up their heels for Mollycoddett Day fair goes Saturday. The Cloggers were one of many new entertainers at this year's fair. Thousands of people turned out to enjoy the day's events and activities on and around the Bethel Common. The evening's climactic fireworks display was pronounced the best in memory. The weather Saturday was a bit cool and blustery, but a welcome relief from the heat and humidity earlier in the week. The Cloggers here are (from left): Fonda Davenport, Geri Gaudet, Donna Bernard, Bob Dolloff, Dot Wing and Michele Varuolo. Story, page 2; more photos pages 2, 10, 11.

To our readers and advertisers

I am delighted to inform you that The Bethel Citizen will soon be returning to its traditional publication day of Thursday.

For 90 years after its founding, in 1895, readers could expect their local newspaper every Thursday. That changed in 1985, when the printing of The Citizen was moved from in-house to Lewiston. In order to be fitted into the tight press schedule in Lewiston, The Citizen had to be printed Tuesday night, which meant changing the publication day to Wednesday.

We have recently, however, been able to secure presstime on Wednesday night, which will allow us to return to Thursday publication effective Aug. 7.

The reason for making this change is quite simple: it will allow us to provide our readers with more, and more timely, local news.

Under the present schedule, the newspaper must be pasted up and sent to Lewiston by the end of the day on Tuesday. This means Tuesday municipal meetings (of which there are a goodly number) cannot be reported until a week after the fact. The same holds true for election results.

Meetings are, of course, not the sole source of community news, but they are basic and need to be covered. Returning to Thursday publication will allow our news staff to do so in a more comprehensive and timely manner.

The week we return to Thursday publication we will also be making some changes to the internal structure of the newspaper, one of which will be the creation of a weekly "Clubs and Organizations" page, devoted entirely to such organizational happenings. We encourage readers to submit material for this page, and next week's Citizen will provide some helpful guidelines for doing so.

For the present, our advertising deadlines will not change. While we have been able to secure the later presstime, other aspects of our internal production process must continue in their current schedule. This is in part because of an upcoming changeover to computer pagination. Once we have pagination up and running, we will review our entire production cycle and reassess all our deadlines.

As a community newspaper, The Bethel Citizen serves many functions, but its key role is to tell readers as much as possible about what's going on in the community. Our staff is convinced that by returning to Thursday publication, we will significantly improve our ability to fulfill that role.

We trust you'll be pleased with the results.

SAD44 opts for review board to handle objections to books

SAD44 has tentatively established a review committee for dealing with complaints regarding instructional materials. It is the district's first formal policy addressing the issue of what materials are appropriate for use in the schools. Requests that objectionable material be removed from use in the schools would be handled by the committee. The panel would be chosen by the school superintendent, and would be composed of a school director, a community member, a principal, a library staff member, a teacher and a professional familiar with the student age group.

Kent Rosberg, SAD44 superintendent, said that while he hoped the policy regarding material removal would never have to be used, "it's good to have it in place."

Bingo hall supporters play their cards ... and someone else's

By MICHAEL DANIELS

A public relations campaign launched by a Fryeburg consultant has resulted in approximately 200 postcards arriving at the offices of the Land Use Regulation Commission in Augusta.

Most -- not all -- of the preprinted cards support a proposal by the Passamaquoddy Indian Tribe to construct a high-stakes bingo hall on tribal land in Albany Township.

But at least one of the cards is not from the person whose name and address appear on it: Northeast Bank president and C.E.O. Jim Delamater.

The address listed on the card is 232 Center Street in Auburn, which is the headquarters of Northeast Bank (formerly Bethel Savings Bank), and the "type of business" is listed as financial.

But Delamater said he did not send such a card nor authorize one to be sent for him.

"I don't know anything about it," Delamater told The Citizen. The card is not in his handwriting, he said, and neither he nor the bank has taken a formal position on the issue.

Dear Land Use Regulation Commission Member,

As a resident of Maine, I am sending you this postcard to inform you that I support the development of a High Stakes Bingo Facility, in Albany Township, Maine.

I urge you and fellow members to approve the permit that has been submitted by the Passamaquoddy Tribe for your review.

A favorable ruling by the Commission will help enable the Passamaquoddy Tribe to improve the quality of life of all Tribal members.

SPURIOUS SUPPORT--This card was set to LUTC in support of the Passamaquoddy Indian Tribe's bingo hall proposal for Albany Township, but it was not sent (or otherwise authorized) by Jim Delamater, whose name and business address appear on it.

$2,000 reward offered for conviction of Grafton Notch 'serial arsonist'

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Maine Forest Service is offering a $2,000 reward in connection with what one official describes as a "serial arsonist" -- possibly targeting the Mead Paper Company -- who is apparently operating in the Grafton Notch area.

The forest service and Newry Fire Department battled two small woods fires Sunday evening on Mead property just north of the state park. Both fires burned less than an acre.

But their circumstances were similar to those of other fires that have been occurring in the area for the past six or seven years, according to Newry fire chief Tink Conkright.

Forest ranger Jay Bernard said the fires over the past years show the same method of operation. "They're now become very familiar in how and where they're set. They're on a road with an escape route, just off the road in a convenient pile of brush," he said.

Bernard said that a lack of evidence, as in the case of Sunday's fires, can be an indication of arson. "There are a finite number of causes of wildlands fires," he said. Those include machinery, such as in a logging operation, and lightning strikes. Both have been ruled out because of the time elapsed since any activity of that kind.

"Sometimes the lack of evidence will tell you an awful lot. A device may be used, and then removed," he said. Bernard used the example of a cigarette lighter.

The fires, Bernard believes, "are being set to make a statement." He said while he has suspicions regard-

READY TO GO, FINALLY--Work begins this week on the often-delayed Mechanic Street phase of Bethel's Inflow and Infiltration Removal Project. The work, which is expected to take from 35 to 45 days, involves digging up and replacing the sewer and storm drain lines, then rebuilding the road and adding a sidewalk and curbs. Approximately 300 feet of Summer Street (from Mechanic Street to the existing drainage ditch) will also receive the treatment. The $234,054 project will be paid for by a $158,200 Rural Development grant, $21,000 from an enhancement grant stemming from the Bethel Station project, and $54,854 in town funds. Also slated for this summer is a crossing that will connect Mechanic Street with the new extension in Bethel Station. That work is to be done by the St. Lawrence and Atlantic Railroad, according to Town Manager Phil Tarr. (Photo by Michael Daniels)

BINGO BRINGS NO BENEFIT HERE

To the Editor:

I am writing to echo and support Harry Preble's recent letter to the editor concerning the proposed Passamaquoddy high-stakes bingo hall to be built in Albany.

My family has had a summer home on Songo Pond since 1935. Albany and Bethel have always been very special to me and if I thought this proposal would benefit the two towns I would support it. But I do not believe it would benefit either Bethel or Albany.

Not only would the quality of life and the property values at Songo Pond and in the rest of Albany deteriorate, but the sort of people who would be attracted to this high-stakes bingo gaming are not the people or business which either Bethel or Albany would want to encourage.

I agree with Harry Preble that the flyers and advertisements being circulated in town should not be taken seriously. There is no evidence that in other gambling establishments such as Foxwoods in Connecticut, that anyone except the owners and developers profit -- certainly not the surrounding towns. And would we want to make money this way anyway -- off the backs of people's addictions?

I'm sorry for the poverty of the Passamaquoddy Tribe, but I don't believe a gambling operation is the solution. Let's keep Bethel and Albany healthy, safe and beautiful -- the way we love these towns.

DON'T SNUB BINGO PLAYERS

To the Editor:

The following thoughts come to mind when reading the July 2 interview in the Sun-Journal, in which Steve Wight, owner of Sunday River Inn, in Bethel, states that "I would not want to fill my inn with people who are here to sleep and leave....it would be prostitution on the part of the lodging operator to seek to maximize income by selling beds."

Steve Wight was referring to the permit that the Passamaquoddy Tribe has pending before LURC for a high-stakes bingo facility in Albany Township. As a business person, I must ask:

What is the purpose of an inn?
As he is a member of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce, is this the official position of all the innkeepers in the chamber?

Does the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce endorse a statement like this from a prominent member?

Would the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce issue a statement regarding their official position on visitors "sleeping and leaving"?

Is the economy in the Bethel area so great that innkeepers can be as selective as Wight would like to be?

What is the position of the Maine Innkeepers Association in a situation such as this? And the Maine Restaurant Association, since they are also adversely impacted?

Do the restaurant operators in Bethel endorse such a statement from Wight?

Does the management of Sunday River Ski Resort discourage a visitor from returning if only a hot dog is purchased from a snack cart?

Is it Summit Hotel policy that if one stays overnight in their hotel, a ski lift ticket must be purchased?

Does Wight realize that the Passamaquoddy facility will not be operating during the height of the skiing season?

How can Wight be sure that the folks who "sleep and leave" will not come back again to visit Bethel, for varied other reasons?

I was the owner of the Mexico Chicken Coop Restaurant for 50 years. I enjoyed one person coming to dinner as well as a bus load, or someone staying at an inn and dining more than once. Is there a conflict of interest with Wight on this issue?

Ira Hayes, a Native American, an Indian, helped raise the American flag at Mount Suribachi, on Iwo Jima, in WW II, lest we forget. Native Americans have been discriminated against for too long and in too many ways.

ANTI-BINGO PREP MEETING

To the Editor:

I am sure that by now everyone has become aware of the mass media coverage that has been provided the backers of the Passamaquoddy Tribe of the proposed high-stakes bingo in Albany. Ironically, the coverage and mailings went to towns abutting Albany and not to Albany residents themselves, who are the most impacted.

Jeff Rosenblatt has worked tirelessly to stay on top of the situation. Jeff is happy to represent all of us, but he needs our help.

Jeff has told me it is crucial at this time to meet with all residents in Albany before the hearings so that he can explain exactly what is happening and get your input. To do this effectively we are holding another meeting for residents and taxpayers of Albany. The meeting will be held at Albany Town Hall on July 27 at 6 p.m.

I cannot stress the importance of this meeting enough. I urge everyone to plan to attend so that Jeff can prepare his case for the hearing on Aug. 20. Questions: call Jeff at 527-2138.

Mollyockett Day 1997 float winners

FIRST PRIZE--Bailey's Auto Parts

SECOND PRIZE--The Merrill Family

THIRD PRIZE--Bethel Rotary Club

Improvements seen in Mollyockett Day 1997, but there's still progress to be made

By ALISON ALOISIO

Saturday's chilly weather -- sandwiched as it was between a beautiful Friday and a gorgeous Sunday -- may have left Mollyockett Day organizers wishing they had gotten more cooperation from Mother Nature. Still, the turnout was described as good by Robin Zinchuk, executive director of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce.

An effort to keep people on the Bethel common by increasing the number of entertainment events was "somewhat successful," she said. Fewer food vendors turned out than expected, according to Delma McMillin, president of the Lions Club. He said 13 had signed up, but only about half showed up.

That apparently sent some people down Main Street looking for sustenance. Edie Okenquist of Bethel Bagels and Deli said the brisk weather brought brisk business to her shop -- especially for coffee.

Zinchuk was one of those stopping in during the afternoon. "It's nice to have people stay on the common," she said, "but it's also nice to have businesses benefit from people wandering around town."

The Village Sampler gift shop is right on the common. Owner Barb Testani said this Mollyockett Day "was the best I ever had."

She wasn't sure what factors contributed to her good business. "They may have come inside to get warm," she said.

McMillin said the chilly temperatures were still an improvement over last year's weather, which included rain and high winds.

Competition results
There were many competitions that took place during the course of the day. First up was the Mollyockett Day Classic foot race, held at five- and one-mile distances.

Top Bethel-area male finishers in the five-mile race were (by age group): ages 15-19, Luke Hiebert, third; 30-39, Robert Munning, second; Peter Southam, fourth; and Jon Starr, sixth; 40-49, Tony Chapman, 11th, Curtis Cole, 14th, Bill Murphy, 19th.

Top Bethel female finishers were: 15-19, Heather Best, first, Heidi Blake, third; 20-29, Kelly O'Leary, first, Brie Weisman, second; 30-39, Bernadette Taylor, first (in both age group and overall), Virginia Kelly, fifth, Sarah Southam, seventh; 40-49, Cayte Vogt, second, Pattie Parsons, third.

In the one-mile race for boys: under six, Sawyer Barter, first, Doug Gardner, second; 6-8, Matt Zinchuk, first, Jonathan Parsons, third, Owen Barter, fourth; 9-11, William Carver, second, Ryan Savage, third, Kevin Zinchuk fifth; 12-14, Daniel Zinchuk, second, John Reuter, third, Rick Savage, fifth.

For the girls: under six, Katie Driscoll, first, Samantha Southam, second; 6-8, Jillian Kimball, first, Tamara Isham, fourth, Kristie Carver, fifth; 9-11, Lindsay Hart, second; 12-14, Sarah Gamble, third.

In the walkers open category, it was Debbie Howe, first, Joan Miller, second, and Donna Whipple, fourth.

Bed race
The order of finish in the annual bed race down Broad Street was: first, Bethel Bears; second, Bethel Family Health Center; third, Tri-Town Rescue; fourth, Boston.

Fiddlers contest
The results of the fiddlers contest were as follows: Junior Junior division, Jessica Parsons, first, Peter Bunk Palomaki, second, Tanner Wallace, third; Junior division, Lydia Veilleux, first, Ryan Parsons, second; Senior division, Louis Morel, first, Fred King, second.

Floats
The top three finishers in the parade float competition were Bailey's Auto Parts, the Merrill family and Rotary Railroad. Honorable mentions went to Bethel Outdoor Adventures, the Woodstock oxen, and "The Eyes Have It."

Duck race
The grand prize for the annual duck race on the Sunday River went to Jillian Woodworth of Plymouth, Mass. She won an L.L. Bean canoe. Second place went to Ed Todesca of Milton, Mass., who won a season pass to Sunday River Ski Resort. Third place, a season pass to Mt. Abram, went to Sherry Hyman of Bethel.

Canoe race
The top three team finishers in the VFW Canoe Race were: Brenda Perkins/Josh Howe, first; Justin Gilbert/Jason Billings, second; Jessica Brearley/Matt Havra, third.

Lobster raffle
The Mahoosuc Land Trust's lobster raffle was won by Howard Cole of Bethel.

Frog jumping contest
Haley Tanguay's frog took first place with a distance of 108 1/2 inches. Second and third places went to Joshua Merrill and Christina Morin, whose frogs jumped 105 1/2 inches and 102 1/2 inches. A prize for the shortest distance, 17 inches, was awarded to Mason Mills.

Briefly

Bethel Station project recognized

BETHEL--Business and municipal agencies that worked together on the Bethel Station project have received the 1997 Achievements in Business Award from the Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments. The award was presented at AVCOG's annual meeting. It is shared by Bethel Station developers, the Bethel Water District and the town. The award recognizes the cooperative effort by the public and private sector to benefit the community.

Newry post office approved

NEWRY--An application to build a combined post office and retail facility was approved last week by the Newry Planning Board. The developer, Royal River Development Inc. of Windham, wants to have the Sunday River Road office operating by October. The 2,900-square-foot post office will replace the current one on Newry Corner. The 5,600-foot retail space in the same complex will probably not be built until next spring. The board limited the size of the project's septic system, stipulating it be no larger than one used by an ordinary household. That effectively rules out a restaurant or bar. The developer also agreed to install a guardrail across the road from the entrance to the parking lot. It is designed to prevent cars from passing on the right when others are stopped to make a left turn into the lot. The state and developer will share the cost of the guardrail.

Sunday River camper found safe

NEWRY--A 12-year-old girl who ran away from a day camp at Sunday River Ski Resort Thursday was found unharmed after a two-hour search. The girl disappeared about 2:30 p.m. near the access road to the Summit Hotel. After employees searched for an hour, they contacted the Oxford County Sheriff's Department and the Maine Warden Service. A larger search party was formed, and the girl was found about 4:30 p.m. near the hotel. Officials were not sure why she ran away. She had apparently tried to leave earlier in the morning, but was stopped by the camp program director. Her parents were notified then of her attempt to run away.

Runoff problems on Big Concord

WOODSTOCK--Selectmen are trying to settle on a solution for a recurring problem with water runoff near the outlet of Big Concord Pond. They are considering whether to replace three small culverts with one larger one, or to add to the existing culvert system and widen the roadway. Selectmen last week tabled the issue until Aug. 5. Meanwhile, Town Manager Vern Maxfield planned to consult Jim Chandler of the Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District for advice.

Region 9 vote next Wednesday

RUMFORD--The Region 9 School of Applied Technology budget will be decided at an open meeting at Mountain Valley High School in Rumford July 30. The $942,880 budget was approved by a majority of regional voters in referendum-style voting in individual towns. SAD44, Gilead and Upton voters approved it by overwhelming margins. But the budget was defeated because Region 9 board members are required to act on the budget by weighted vote in accordance with a yes or no from their individual towns or districts. SAD43 (Rumford/Mexico) voters defeated it 545-604, and that district's board members hold a large percentage of the weighted vote. The same budget will be presented at the open meeting, which begins at 7 p.m.

WMNF offers reward

BETHEL--White Mountain National Forest officials are offering a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person(s) responsible for a rash of vandalism discovered recently at local trailsheads and hiking trails. Total damage estimated at more than $1,000 occurred in June along the Caribou and Mud Brook trails. Signs and information boards were broken and cut from their posts. On the night of June 27 or early June 28, a chainsaw was used to cut down two information boards on the Caribou Trailhead at the end of the Bog Road in Mason Township. Anyone with information on the incidents is asked to call (603) 466-2713 or (207) 824-2134.

SAD44 ups credits needed to graduate

BETHEL--SAD44 directors gave final approval last week to increase to 24 the number of credits required to graduate from high school. Currently, 20 credits are required. The new policy would go into effect for the class of 2001. Another proposed change would have required middle school students to pass each of their courses to move on to the next grade. But superintendent Kent Rosberg questioned whether students should be asked to repeat classes for which they had received good grades. The middle school staff is expected to do more research on the issue before the School Board considers it again.

NRCM lukewarm on Legislature

AUGUSTA--The most recent session of the Maine Legislature has been termed a "mixed bag" on environmental issues by the Natural Resources Council of Maine. "There were pockets of true environmental leadership," said legislative director Evelyn deFrees, "but we are disappointed that, despite widespread citizen support for environmental protection, the Legislature on the whole missed important opportunities." While legislators rejected efforts to roll back Maine's environmental laws, said NRCM, they fell short of tackling major, long-term environmental problems like development in Maine's North Woods, and the dioxin pollution in rivers and other waters.

Brothers' climb ends in tragedy

HART'S LOCATION, N.H.--One Maine man was killed and his brother seriously injured when they fell 200 feet while climbing on Webster Cliffs last week. Jason Anderson, 24, of Windham died at the scene. Jeff Anderson, 21, was carried down the slope by litter in a six-hour rescue effort.

N.H. approves pipeline

CONCORD, N.H.--New Hampshire's Site Evaluation Committee has voted to approve the construction of a natural gas pipeline that will traverse sections of northern and southeastern New Hampshire. In expressing her support of the SEC decision, Gov. Jeanne Shaheen said, "The pipeline will ultimately benefit businesses and consumers by providing energy alternatives that are consistent with fostering increased competition. Facilitating the transport of additional supplies of natural gas to our state and region will also benefit our area's air quality. Natural gas results in cleaner emissions than many other forms of energy." The Portland Natural Gas Transmission System will construct about 70 miles of pipeline in Coos County.

Dracut/Wells pipeline impact

PORTLAND--The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission has found the southernmost portion of the Portland Natural Gas Transmission System would be an "environmentally acceptable action," according to PNGTS. An environmental impact statement released last week reviewed approximately 66 miles of the route proposed jointly by PNGTS and Maritimes & Northeast Pipeline between Dracut, Mass. and Wells. The proposal calls for the pipeline to be in service in November, 1998.

Western Me. tourism guide available

AUBURN--An information guide to the western Maine area is now available to visitors. The 24-page booklet is the result of a two-year effort by the Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments and Maine's Lakes and Mountains Tourism Council. It contains a calendar of events, an overview of communities, regional and driving tour maps, and a listing of shops, restaurants, indoor and outdoor travel accommodations, real estate and community services. About 50,000 copies of the publication have been produced, with most distributed to tourism and travel outlets in and out of state.

From the Bethel Police log:
Abduction attempted on Rte. 26

On July 18 at 1:15 a.m., while investigating an OUI, police were approached by a female subject. She said she was attempting to get a ride when a small green Toyota-style vehicle pulled up with three male subjects. They asked her if she wanted a ride. She refused, but one of the passengers apparently grabbed her arm and tried to pull her in. She got away, and seeing the blue lights on the cruiser, ran toward it. The subjects' vehicle headed toward Main Street. Police notified the Oxford County Sheriff's Department, which took over the investigation.

Wednesday, July 16

At 5:25 p.m. a subject reported he had just read in the newspaper of an attempted break on Paradise Road. He said that about the same time a strange woman entered his residence and walked up a flight of stairs into his bedroom. She told him she was looking for a house that a friend of hers had rented. The complainant advised police he did not report it, or think it was important until he saw the article.

Thursday, July 17

At 5:55 p.m. a subject was stopped on Lover's Lane for swerving. A registration check showed the vehicle was unregistered and the license plates were assigned to a truck belonging to the subject's husband. The subject, Arlene J. Heath, 34, of Bethel, admitted knowledge of the violations. She was summonsed for operating an unregistered motor vehicle and illegal attachment of plates.

Friday, July 18

At 1:10 a.m. a subject stopped behind the cruiser during another vehicle stop. The subject was questioned regarding a harassment complaint. During the conversation, the officer noticed the subject had bloodshot eyes and slurred speech. He failed three sobriety tests. Stanley Kulinka, 37, of Burlington, N.J., was summonsed for OUI.

At 7:40 p.m. a subject was stopped on the Mayville Road for speeding. A license check showed he had an active warrant for failure to appear in court. Robert F. Tuttle, 29, was placed under arrest and transported to the Oxford County Jail. He was also summonsed for speeding.

Saturday, July 19

At 2:40 p.m. police were advised of a subject who was walking around the Bethel Common taking pictures of young girls and asking them if they wanted a ride. The officer located the subject and told him that he should go and sit down. He said he was waiting for someone to come and pick him up. The officer contacted that person, who came and got him with no further incident.

Sunday, July 20

At 7:15 p.m. police received a call from a business that a woman was asking for an escort to the Canadian border because she didn't want to drive in the dark alone. The officer told the woman he could only escort her to the town line. She said she thought she would be all right if he would just tell her how long it would take to get to the border. The officer complied, and she hung up.

Does this doctor take his own medicine?

Absolutely!

Dr. DeCarolis spends most of his days and (nights) seeing patients and ordering prescriptions. But when it comes to taking care of himself, Dr. DeCarolis' favorite treatment is to "Go Fly a Kite!"

FROM THE

Bethel Town Office

The resident users of Bethel's waste water treatment facility are being asked to complete a survey. In the very near future, property owners will receive one in the mail. Surveys for renters will probably be hand delivered or passed on by the landlord.

The survey involves three simple questions and is completely confidential. The objective is to get the median household income of just the sewer users, for year 1997.

The town has applied for grants and loans through the Rural Development Administration. Unless otherwise provided, these will be based on the median household income of all Bethel residents, as determined by the 1990 census. It is our belief that this does not truly reflect the median income of the current benefited users.

For this reason, the town has asked the Maine Rural Water Association (MRWA) to conduct the survey. MRWA is a nonprofit group based in Brunswick. They have been successful in helping other communities qualify for a grant and interest rates that would not have been awarded based on the 1990 census. Their involvement insures the strictest confidentiality.

It is absolutely critical that we achieve a 75-percent return. Our success will determine Bethel's eligibility for a grant and/or lower interest rate on the loan necessary for the upgrade at the treatment facility. In order to guarantee the return rate, representatives of the town will conduct a door-to-door pickup. Please complete the survey at your earliest convenience. We have limited resources and would like to complete the pickup by Aug. 8. If you have any questions or would like to help out with pickup, please contact Phil or Kathy at the Town Office. Thank you for your cooperation.

ing a suspect based on data, "I have nothing to link anyone to a conviction."

All the fires have taken place on Mead land near Grafton Notch, Bernard said. "Mead seems to be a target," he said.

Bernard said he is asking the assistance of other agencies -- including the FBI -- in profiling a suspect. "I would identify him as a serial arsonist -- a male," he said.

As the investigation continues, MFS is offering a $2,000 reward for information leading to a conviction in the case.

Bernard is asking the public to report suspicious activity in the area. Specifically, he said, people should watch out for vehicles parked in an area not designated for parking, for persons walking off hiking trails or along the road, and hitchhikers.

Anyone with information may call the MFS Arson Hotline at 1-800-987-0257.

ATC

palachian Trail Club, the hosts for the conference, by writing to ATC '97 Conference, PO Box 1256, Auburn, ME 0211-1256. Registration is also available on the opening days. The registration desk will be open from noon Friday, Aug. 1, through 1 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 3.

Seminars on the opening weekend of the conference will explore such topics as "finding solitude with a hundred Vibrams going by" and how to "develop management techniques for holding back the tide (of hikers)."

The week-long session will also include workshops for hikers and trail maintainers, excursions throughout Maine, and guided hikes on the Maine section of the trail and the surrounding mountains.

Humorist Tim ("Ayuh, there's good things happening in the north woods.") Sample will tell Maine stories Saturday night. The folk group, Schooner Fare, will entertain Sunday.

Brian Burke, deputy under secretary for Natural Resources and the Environment, United States Department of Agriculture, will be the keynote speaker on Aug. 2. He will talk about the trail corridor protection program. Some 37 miles of private lands -- including 2.7 miles on the summit ridge of Saddleback in Maine -- still have not been purchased to protect the 2,160-mile footpath.

The Appalachian Trail bisects most of the wildest country remaining in the Eastern United States. The trail follows the bony backbone of the Appalachian Mountains between Springer Mountain in Georgia and Katahdin in Maine.

For hikers the trail is 40,000 white blazes on trees, rocks and fence posts; and an estimated five million footsteps. It's also spectacular mountain vistas, wild forests, and great beds of wildflowers -- trillium, delicate mountain bluets, wild iris, pink lady slippers, trail-side mayflowers, startling bright blaze-orange azaleas, and brilliantly-white flowering dogwood.

The trial is walks through national parks and forests; walks past hill farms and woodlots, and occasionally down main streets of quiet mountain towns. The trail is brisk cold days of early spring, March snows, chilly April rains, the heat of summer and the beauty of a New England autumn. It's walks above the clouds, through the clouds -- and occasionally into cloudbursts.

But for most of the participants who will be attending the conference, the trial also represents hot and buggy days of clearing blow-downs, and cutting the brush, thistles and raspberry bushes that require annual removal to keep the footpath open. Though the trail traverses a variety of state and federal lands, maintenance is almost wholly done by volunteers.

For the volunteers the trial is a constant challenge to preserve as much "wildness" as possible for a trail located within a weekend's drive of two-thirds of the nation's population. Workshops range from choosing the right backpack, to a geologic history of the Appalachian Mountain region. Participants will have a choice of 42 workshop sessions on such topics as birding, trail cookery, identifying and cooking edible plants and building a shelter with a chainsaw.

Excursions include Saco River and lake canoe trips, island cruises, visits to coastal beaches and parks, whale watching, a trip on the Mt. Washington Auto Road, and gold-panning in the Swift River.

The several hundred guided hikes range from a four-day backpack in the "100-Mile Wilderness," to an hour and a half ramble up Singeple Ridge, near Norway, South Paris. Nearly all the mountains and waterfalls within a 50-mile radius of the Sunday River Resort will be visited. And some hikes range as far afield as Katahdin and Baxter State Park.

The hikes and excursions were planned by and will be mostly guided by members of the Maine Chapter, Appalachian Mountain Club, at the request of the Maine Appalachian Trail Club.

The Maine Chapter, AMC, is a social and conservation organization, affiliated with the Boston-based Appalachian Mountain Club. The MATC is an independent group devoted to the construction and maintenance of the 180 miles of the Appalachian Trail in Maine, plus the numerous side trails.

This is the third national Appalachian Trail Conference the MATC has hosted. Maine's Katahdin region was the site of the first conferences in 1939, when 68 attended. The conference met at Sugarloaf Mountain in Maine in 1979.

Rosberg said the board will also have the option of making changes to the policy in the future, if the need arises.

The original policy proposed last month was returned to the Policy Committee for revision, after some directors expressed concern over whether a decision could be appealed.

The revised proposal states that "if the complainant is dissatisfied with the decision, the complainant may appeal to the board," and that no materials shall be removed until a final decision has been rendered.

According to school officials, there have been no recent requests to remove material from general circulation in the schools. Some parents, however, have asked that their children be individually excused from using certain materials. In those cases, alternative materials have been provided.

The proposed policy also lists general guidelines for initially selecting materials for use in the schools.

The board must vote positively on a proposed policy two times before it may take effect. A second vote will be scheduled at an upcoming meeting.

Bingo

Rosenblatt came upon the card while reviewing the LURC file following a meeting in Augusta. "I was shocked," he said, because he knows Delamater and did not think he supported the bingo hall.

Rosenblatt subsequently contacted Delamater, who confirmed he had not sent in a card.

The attorney also noticed that a post-it note (unsigned, but apparently from a LURC staffer) had been attached to other cards in the file. The note observed that many of the signatures appeared to be in the same handwriting.

(Note: A spot check by The Citizen of cards from the Bethel area did not reveal any other occasions on which the person whose name appears on a card did not send it.)

Most support from elsewhere

Of the 200 or so postcards LURC had received by the end of last week, none were from Albany and fewer than one in five was from the Bethel area (SAD44 towns).

The cards came primarily from Pembroke and Perry (near the Pleasant Point Indian reservation) and from the Fryeburg/Harrison, Rumford/Dixfield and Norway/South Paris areas.

Of the three dozen or so cards that did come from the Bethel area, the majority were from the people in tourist-oriented businesses, such as restaurants, inns and B&Bs.

The Route 2 corridor was especially well represented, with cards from owners, managers or employees of the Pleasant River Motel, Rebel Recreation, Breau's, Norseman Inn, Briar Lea B&B, The Loft and Bethel Air Service.

In the village, Kara O'Donnell of Mothers, John and Marybeth Bayerlein of the Cameron House, and Adam Seiden of Bethel Express sent cards in support of the bingo hall, as did contractor Dick Douglass and Chris Otten, owner of Chrisports at Sunday River Ski Resort.

But about a dozen people who sent in the preprinted cards used the opportunity to alter text to indicate -- often emphatically -- that they did not support the bingo hall.

A number of letters have also been received at LURC commenting on the bingo hall, and most tend to oppose it, according to project analyst Catherine Varney.

In order for the plan to go ahead, LURC must approve a rezoning of the tribe's 18 acres in Albany and then approve the construction of the hall itself.

A public hearing on the plan will be held Aug. 20 at 1 p.m. and again at 6 p.m. at the Summit Hotel at Sunday River.

In a related development, the Oxford County Commissioners decided last week not to take a position on the controversial bingo-hall proposal.

"At this time the Oxford County Commissioners choose to remain neutral," they wrote to LURC.

JULY

1997

Bethel

by Arlene Brown & Ginny Keniston

Bill and Davene Mitchell of Greenwood are renovating the former Varney farm home on Blake Hill and plan to move there in the fall.

Kathy and Jonathan Goldberg are the proud parents of twin daughters born on July 20.

Dr. Dan and Jennifer Vogt and their three children are spending some time with his parents, Frank and Janie Vogt.

Lea-Anne Thayer of Richmond, Va., recently spent several days visiting her grandmother, Doris Brown.

Michael and Eileen McGuire and children, Brendan, Sean, and Katie of Manchester, N.H., spent this past week visiting Mrs. Jean McGuire.

Bud and Florine Bowden, Edna Young and Muriel Butters were in Peabody, Mass., recently to celebrate their sister Adelaide Gibbs' 86th birthday.

Thelma Remington sold her home off Kilborn Street to John Dickson and has moved to Sudbury Village.

Peg and Avon Severance of Bangor, formerly of Bethel, visited friends in town several days this past week. Avon served as game warden in this area for several years during the early '60s.

Ginny Walker has moved to Waldoboro where she is employed at the Yarn Shop.

Ryan Greenleaf of Biddeford has been visiting his grandparents, John and Arlene Greenleaf of Sunset Road.

A. William Hoglund, professor of history at the University of Connecticut, was a guest of Stan Howe several days last week. He was Mr. Howe's major adviser during his master's degree program which Howe completed 30 years ago. While here Professor Hoglund visited the Finnish American Center in West Paris and many other historical sites in the area.

Jim Stoner suffered a stroke last week and is recovering at CMMC in Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindley Wieden of Evergreen Road recently visited his nephew and niece, Clifford Wieden Jr. and Carolyn Carey, in Presque Isle where they were closing the home of their father, who had passed away recently.

Brian Tibbetts underwent angioplasty this past week at Maine Medical Center in Portland and is recuperating at his home on Vernon Street.

Donald R. Stanley and Charley Goodwin of South Portland attended Mollycockett Day and visited Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Howe.

Mrs. Kay Eames of Cape Elizabeth is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Francis Berry.

Mrs. Joan Wright and daughters, Catharine and Erin of Standish, and Mrs. Barbara Nason were in town visiting friends and attended Mollycockett Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Holdon Lovejoy of Dixfield visited their cousin, Mrs. Donald Brown, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Swett are making renovations on their home on Chapman Street, formerly the Frank Packard place.

Frank Belisle had cataract surgery in Portland last Wednesday and is doing well.

Lindley and Pauline Wieden attended the 50th wedding anniversary of friends in Manchester, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bohr of Chapman Street had a family gathering this past week including three daughters and families: Gretchen Courage and family of Brooklyn, N.Y.; Katie Bohr and family of Storrs, Conn.; Sarah Bohr and family of Jacksonville, Fla. They spent four days canoeing and camping at South Arm Campground.

Orlando and Judy Fraser, Vidalia, Ga., and Lowell and Gwen O'steen of Lake City, Fla., were guests of Mrs. Doris Fraser for Mollycockett Day. Lowell rode with Richard Fraser in his 1908 S Ford Roadster in the parade. On Sunday, the group worshipped at the Albany Congregational Church. During the afternoon they took a trip to the summit of Mt. Washington. The wind was gusting in excess of 70 miles per hour and the temperature was 34 degrees. The guests enjoyed a wonderful weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim and Mary Fraser Gray and two sons from Norway visited Sunday at the home of Doris Fraser.

Ray, Leslie and Mindy Cooley were visited over the July 4th weekend by U.S. Navy submarine service friends, Tim and Elaine Utican, Seattle, Wash., were given the trip by their children as a 25th anniversary gift. Visiting from Vermont were Frank and Debbie Lee of Essex Junction. All of the men served together on the USS Tigrone, New London, Conn., during the early 1970s. A wonderful time was had talking over old times and catching up on each other's news. All of the visitors were impressed by the friendliness and atmosphere of Bethel.

Corey Brown and family of Rock Springs, Wyo., are spending this week with his parents, Stanley and Althea Brown, in Northwest Bethel.

Lucia Schwarz, June Abbott, and Shireen Vincent entertained their granddaughters (newly introduced) one day last week with a trip to the Portland Children's Museum and Clay Cafe on Free Street, where they painted their own pottery for firing.

Alberta, Neil and Elizabeth Merrill spent last week at the Lobster Buoy Campground in South Thomaston.

Raymond Saunders Sr. returned Monday from Stephens Memorial Hospital where he underwent treatment for pneumonia.

Tammy and Blake Johnson and three daughters have moved into the Gould Academy house on Church Street recently vacated by the Dohrmanns, who moved to Massachusetts.

Earl Hutchinson has returned to his home on Railroad Street after undergoing observation and treatment at Stephens Memorial Hospital.

Jim Owen, recently retired head of the Gould Academy art department and for whom the school's James B. Owen Art Gallery was named is enjoying his retirement with his wife Lucia at their home on Keywaydin Lake in East Stoneham. Lucia will resume her duties as head of the English Department at Gould in the fall.

Ed Dorion and Mary Nutter of Portland were in town Saturday to visit Ed's sister and brother-in-law, Mary and Bud Paine, and to attend Mollycockett Day.

Bart and Jeannine Bailey and family of Amesbury, Mass., spent the weekend at their ski home in Coombs Village, Newry. They visited friends in Bethel and enjoyed the beautiful fireworks at the Bethel Inn Saturday evening.

THE BETHEL HOUSE

Tori Pease of Coastal Management was hostess on July 17 for a cookout for Bethel House residents. This is the third year she has done this. The first two years she was assisted by Lindley Wieden. This year, however, she was assisted by Jean Palanzo, Bethel House manager. Those attending from the Bethel House were Chris Knoderer, Ruth Silver, Irene Russell, Mildred Newell, Rebecca Ricker, Carolyn Chase, Vivian Chase, Eva Lane, Ruth Cummings, Everett Cole, Raymond Swan and Duane Winslow. Lindley and Pauline Wieden also attended.

Mrs. Peter Anderson visited her aunt, Amy Hanscom, at the Rumford Community Home recently, and she also visited her aunt, Ruth Cummings, at the Bethel House Thursday evening.

Nancy Chadbourne and Thomas and Gail Russell visited their mother, Irene Russell, on Saturday. Please call Virginia Keniston at 824-2661 with your news items.

Polly Smith was at Flying Point in Freeport with Gary Smith and Wanda Howard recently.

There has been a doe and twins down in the field in front of Polly Smith's. She watches them often.

Linda and Neil Olson have a new baby grandson, Connor Richard Hakin Aube, born to Carrie and Craig Aube. He was born on July 11 and weighed 8 pounds, 10 ounces.

Lucy Nordahl returned from Massachusetts recently after attending a baby shower.

Betty Nordahl of California, Nancy Nordahl of Connecticut, and Bill Nordahl of New Jersey visited Jack and Lucy Nordahl for the week of July 4th.

Millie and Dana Jackson attended an Indian Powwow in Ossipee, N.H. Arlene Harrington took Heather Hallman home to Durham on July 9. Laurie Crockett went to Laconia, N.H., recently to visit her daughter, Stephanie Bolen, and family.

Bethel officials felt it was not necessary to file intervenor status with FERC on the PNGTS pipeline. I guess the people of East Bethel aren't worth too much or their feelings and fears, we are expendable. It seems PNGTS is telling each town something a little different about shut-off valves and pipe grades. C.N.A.P. has also learned that 15 law firms in Portland will not offer services because one lawyer has been hired by PNGTS out of each firm, thus creating a conflict of interest.

Church services will be held at East Bethel Church on July 27 at 7 p.m., with the Rev. Norman Rust as minister. There will be one more service, on Aug. 24 at 2 p.m., with Rev. Rust again leading the service.

Alder River Grange will have a Cold Cuts Supper on July 26 with baked beans, salads, cold cuts and ice cream. Adult tickets will be $5 and children under 12 will be charged $2.50.

Rudi and Barbara Honkala returned on July 18 from a camping trip in Washington County at the Pines Campground, which is 15 miles west of Grand Lake Stream. They enjoyed the trip and beat the heat while there.

Ron and Karen Gilbert are expecting a baby in February.

The Bethel Senior Citizens Club met at the Linnell Motel and Conference Center in Rumford on July 16. Peggy Coolidge, Polly Smith and Ruth Bethel went with Mr. and Mrs. Roger Twichell.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Goodwill of Turner visited Peggy Coolidge recently.

Alder River Grange will have a yard sale on Aug. 16. If people want a table, they can be rented for $5. There will be a chicken Bar-B-Que that night at 5 p.m. The Grange will have an Italian supper on Sept. 13 at 5 p.m., and a Harvest Supper on Oct. 11 at 5 p.m. The last supper will be baked beans and casseroles on Nov. 1 at 5 p.m.

Roger Zimmerman has found a lawyer that will help us. She is not cheap either. It will be $10,000 anyway. Concerned Neighbors Against the Pipeline will need help financially from concerned neighbors. A savings account will be opened at Northeast Bank to deposit any monies received.

Concerned Neighbors Against the Pipeline also needs town support if there is to be a stop or a slow-down made on the pipeline. There will be a town selectmen's meeting on Aug. 4 at 7 p.m. If you wish to speak, call the town office on July 28 to have your name on the agenda.

It has been found that a young woman just moved to Albany and bought a home there. The realty company she bought from didn't say a word that a natural gas pipeline was coming by her front door. If she had known, she would not have bought the house.

What a glorious rainbow dominated the southern eastern sky Thursday evening.

Donald Tanguay and family from Baltimore, Md., are spending the rest of this month at their cottage here. His oldest son, Jediah, a recent high school graduate, has just returned from an overseas trip.

Robert Folsom successfully passed his written test for his pilot's license this week and is now anticipating his flying test.

Mrs. Millie Wentzell has entertained more family this past week. Mr. and Mrs. Larry and Rowena Strout and daughters, Courtney and Abbie, from Waterboro spent a few days. Huey and Judy Colman and daughters, Kirsten, Irene and Sarah, from Portland enjoyed a cookout on Sunday. Bob Eichel went to Boston one day to meet his grandson, Matthew Eichel, from Grapevine, Texas.

Norma and David Salway spent a few days this week on the Maine coast in the Rockland area.

Brandon and Tara Salway from Old Orchard Beach came up here to tend the dogs, cats and birds.

Ethel and Craig Turner were callers here Saturday and brought me a box of beautiful strawberries.

Brandon drove me to Hanover Thursday. We visited with Dottie Adams. Then she drove me to Rumford and later brought me home.

Andover

by
Karen McKay

A former Andover man, Carmeno Onofrio, will be recognized by the United States Postal Service with a special stamp and cancellation in honor of the 50th anniversary of the first plane landing on Mount Washington. The special 50th celebration will be held on Saturday, July 26, at 11 a.m. at Great Glen Trails, Route 16 in Pinkham Notch, Gorham, N.H. Mr. Onofrio flew 43 trips in a J3 Piper Cub ferrying equipment on to the mountain top to test altimeters, sometimes in 180-degree-below-zero weather. He was hired by the Air Command of the U.S. Air Force and Northwest Airlines. He was paid $25 per hour for a total of $550. Plane repairs on one trip amounted to $500 alone. He was featured in the March 1978 edition of Yankee magazine.

Mr. Onofrio lived in Andover and taught young men to fly on the strip along the side of Lone Mountain in South Andover. At that time Carmeno flew a four-passenger Stinson Cabin plane built in 1930. A gentleman in Canada purchased the Piper Cub and it has been restored. The late Steve Richards took flying lessons and went on to join the Canadian Ferry Command. Robert B. Swain took lessons and later enlisted in the U.S. Air Corps and flew C-47s.

The East Andover Community Club has had a 10-foot sign made for the Town Garage in memory of Wilbur H. Chenery, former road commissioner. Thanks to Mark Farrington for furnishing the board lumber, Armand Violette for painting and lettering, the Fire Department for use of ladders, and especially to Earl Towne and his helpers for overseeing the project. Mr. Chenery died a year ago July 1 at age 65. He was a lifelong resident of East Andover and served the town of Andover as road commissioner for 29 years.

The Olde Home Days weekend, Aug. 2, 3 and 4 is now just a week away. The numbered souvenir buttons are now on sale at local businesses. The button is decorated with sketches of an old hand-crank phone and of the Earth Station "Bubble." The great raffle will be held on Saturday, Aug. 2. Many prizes and gift certificates are donated to the raffle; the winners' names will be drawn at the common gazebo. The theme of this year's Olde Home Days celebration is "Communications." Cash will be awarded to the winning float entries, so gather family and friends and decorate up an old trailer.

The Library is busy collecting items to display during their exhibit of old communication devices. If you have a gadget you would like to show during the open house, please contact the librarian at 392-4841. The library will also display the photo contest entries.

The categories in the Andover Historical Society's 46th Annual Flower Show are as follows: 1) Satellite, arrangement, dish garden (children through 12 years); 2) Party Line, arrangement (teens); 3) Smoke Signals, white flowers in an antique container; 4) Backyard Gossip, arrangement in a cup and saucer or mug; 5) Pony Express, wild flowers in wooden container; 6) Town Meeting, single specimen; 7) Liars Bench, arrangement using hat and/or pipe; 8) Gertrude Percival Memorial, arrangement in a basket; 9) Daily News, house plants; 10) Surfing the Net, arrangement in any container. A special award for a "unique arrangement" will be presented at the show in memory of Anne Fox. All entries must be dropped off at the society building between 5:30 and 8 p.m. Friday evening. The flower show will be open to the public on Saturday from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Congratulations to Peter and Michele Farrington of Bethel for the birth of a daughter, Mariah, born on June 27, weighing 7 pounds, 7 ounces. Maternal grandparents are Gary and Jacqueline Roshto of Bethel. Paternal grandparents are Pete and Wanda Coolidge and Peter and Colleen Farrington of Andover. Great-grandparents are Clifton and Grace Jackson of Wallingford, Conn., and Olive and Art Whitten of Roxbury Road. Mariah joins a brother, Joseph.

Get well wishes to Larry Cronin, Robert Swain, and Helen Deanis. Former hospital patients Wanda Coolidge and Glennice Roberts are now home recuperating.

Harold Falkenham would like to thank everyone who remembered him with get well wishes, cards, calls, prayers and visits during his recent illness. Buster and Blandine enjoyed visits from both children recently. Brandon was home from Laguna Hills, Calif., and Glenda visited from Bridgewater, Nova Scotia.

Beverly and William Swan recently enjoyed a weekend visit with Maxine and Harmon Thurston in Shoreham, Vt.

Sympathy is extended to the Matt Bean family for the death of his father, Roland Bean of South Rumford.

Sympathy is extended to the Carol Cooper family for the death of her mother, Helen Harris of Livermore.

Judith Grover Tent 17, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, met on Monday, July 14, at the Grange Hall with 10 members present. Kathleen McAlister served as junior vice president and Sally Sawyer as guard. Sally gave a report of the 1999 National Convention to be held in Portland. Elsie Bonney gave her delegate's report on the Department Convention, held in June at Waterville. Thirty-four calls were reported. Harriet Estes reported on visiting Fort Knox. Next meeting is Aug. 11 with Helvi Cary and Elsie Bonney on refreshments.

Graveside services for Raymond Burnham were held at the Burnham family lot in Gorham, with the Rev. Linwood Hanscom officiating. Local people attending from the village were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Billings, Paul Billings, Earl Noyes, Michael Casper, Evelyn Bean, and many family members.

The Historical Society deeply regrets the loss of Ray Burnham. He was formerly a trustee and member of the Building Committee and did much renovation in the museum over the years.

Bryant Pond hour on Channel IV T.V. is 3:30 p.m. on Wednesdays and 7 p.m. on Thursdays. Five-day clubs have been conducted all week at the Baptist Church.

Alice Hoyt attended a Stanley Home Products group leaders' meeting in Peabody, Mass., last Wednesday.

Julie Veysey spent a day this week with her grandmother, Louvie Coffin.

Vince and Beverly Stevens camped at Bar Harbor Campground on the 4th of July weekend. They were lucky to get the last site of 300 sites with hookups. Beverly's mother, Mrs. Thayer, went with them, also.

I spent a couple of days in North Conway with Vicky Sanborn and family. Saturday we picked up Ginny Aridas at the airport. Vicky and children spent Saturday night with her sister.

Forward Fellowship will meet on Monday, July 28, at Beryl Bonney's cottage on Round Pond. It will be a picnic lunch and pokemo will be played after the meeting.

Ellsworth Hathaway hurt his finger quite badly at the mill recently. He's back at work already. Hopefully it will be better shortly.

I stopped by Beverly Stevens' for a short visit one day this week. I worked with Beverly for over 20 years and we live quite close to each other but never seem to visit much. We are going out to lunch next Monday to celebrate our birthdays that are close together.

Claribel Poland had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Phil Krus this week. They went to Market Square Restaurant. Mr. and Mrs. Krus were here from Rhode Island for a short visit.

Terry and Phil Merrill have been camping at Mooslookmeguntic for a few days.

Larry Billings, curator, Woodstock Historical Society, reports that at the July meeting John Head spoke about his early years in West Bethel. History Day is planned for Aug. 16 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The annual picnic will be at Barbara Hathaway's camp. Olive Risko and Kathleen McAllister watched the museum earlier in the afternoon. Olive gathered some information for a visitor on people involved in mining and reported on that at the meeting. The society mourns the passing of Ray Burnham. He was a dedicated member who especially did much renovating in the interior of the museum building.

Quote of the Week: "I've learned that age is important only if you are a cheese."

done by Gil Seeley, "Finding One's Mission in Life." A reading was done by Jay Hanscom and scriptures, St. Mark 6, by Bob Munro. It was announced that a picnic may be enjoyed some time in August, the possible date is the 17th.

Sunday afternoon, the 13th, Ras and Karlene Bachelder and yours truly went to Telstar High School for the Gem and Mineral Show. On the way home we went to see the art work (murals) of artist Brent Bachelder, their son, at the NTL buildings. He has a few more to do for them.

Norman Tetley drove Louise and me to the Rumford Community House Health Center on Wednesday so we could visit with Amy Hanscom, although we were a little late for her Monday birthday. We wished her a happy and healthy year ahead.

Four members of the Newry Bowling Gang: Karlene Bachelder, Gil Seeley, Eleanor Davis and Doris Parent were at Oxford Lanes in Rumford one day last week to do some bowling for fun. On the overall scores Karlene was high on the triples and singles with one string of 101, beating Gil by five pins on the singles. Of the "Righties," Doris was high on the triples and singles beating Eleanor by two pins on the singles. Karlene had five spares, Eleanor had three spares and Doris had one spare. All went to Teena's for lunch and then did some shopping.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson

Hi readers, Time waits for no one, does it. I started this column hours ago and then got on the phone after doing the daily puzzle, etc. Anyway, the "Little Red Wagon" has come and gone and it's so too bad not more town's children get to see it. It's such a good entertainment for them. It is sponsored by Camp Susan Curtis and the Oxford County United Parish and is for anyone to go to. It's a group of entertainers from the University of New Hampshire. If you missed it this year, watch for it next summer -- it's well worth your time.

Dean Hamilton from Florida has been spending a few days here visiting his mother, Fran Hamilton.

The Rev. Janice and Everett Wilcox have been enjoying their two grandchildren, Jared and Nathaniel Cowing from Monmouth, for a few days. Their sister, Jessica, has been at Husson College attending a cheer-leading camp.

What a busy summer this is! Carolyn Heino and I will be going to Massachusetts on Thursday and Friday to meet our two granddaughters at Logan Airport. They are coming here from Norfolk, Va., for a week's visit.

Karen Rolfe and Marc Ritchie are the proud parents of a little girl born on July 9 at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway. She weighed 6 pounds, 10 ounces and her name is Vada Caroleen Ritchie. Maternal grandparents are Coleen Gilks of Worcester, Mass., and Bruce Rolfe of Albany. Paternal grandparents are Victor and Carolyn Ritchie of Auburn.

Brian Rogers and friend from Norway were in town on Sunday and helped Frances Grant get her hay in for next winter's supply. Johnnie Files and friend from South Paris called on Frances Grant and myself on Sunday.

Don't forget the church Bake and Thrift Sales on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Lots of different items come in each week. Thank you, donors. Come in and browse and visit (and buy). Thanks, Ellie Smith, for tending the bake sale table on Saturday.

We were quite upset last Friday as we found that someone had broken into the horse barn across the road from our house and stole several valuable things. The sheriff is working on it and I hope the thief will be found. It happened Thursday night or early Friday morning. If anyone saw anything suspicious, please let us know. They will get caught sooner or later.

The next East Stoneham Church meeting is scheduled for July 24 at the vestry at 7:10 p.m.

The D.U.V. meeting is scheduled for the 23rd at the K. of P. Hall. Please, all you members, try to be there.

Albert Nelson Jr. and Troy Nelson attended the Jiffy Lube 300 Race at Loudon, N.H., on Sunday and had a good time. Troy and others from town are back at Fred, Saunders' Mill after enjoying a week's vacation.

Locke Mills

by Lorraine Larson

Ralph Mills left for Colchester, Vt., Sunday after spending a few days here. His sister, Marcia Smith of Presque Isle, is staying on for a few days and cared for the dogs while her mother was away. Andy and I were married Saturday, July 12, and then toured parts of the state. We stayed at Doug and Sue Bane's in Palmyra for a couple days and explored Burnham, where we had been looking at real estate before buying our present house. Then we continued up the interstate to Presque Isle, where my son-in-law was holding down the fort so to speak. We stayed there two days. He was unable to come to the wedding as he just started a new job as a nurse in the psychiatric ward of a health facility in Fort Fairfield. Andy wanted to find his grandmother's grave in Caribou, so we did that, visited New Sweden where some of his ancestors settled, and the next day we went to Fort Kent, Madawaska, and down Route 1-A and back to Presque Isle.

On the return trip home we got off the interstate at a Bangor exit and continued down the coast to Rockland and Wiscasset and then home. We visited the Farnsworth Museum in Rockland to see the Andrew Wyeth collection and the Farnsworth House.

Almost 40 people attended our wedding, which pleased us very much. It is one of those occasions where one would like to invite everyone one knows but space becomes a factor. I tried to quietly let it be known that anyone who was interested was welcome. Of course that sends chills up and down the spine of those in charge of the food. But it seems as if there is always plenty left over. I will try to list all that did come and hope I don't miss any.

There were my two children, Ralph Mills and Marcia Smith; Don's (Andy) aunt and uncle, Norman and Fritz Peterson of Lewiston; his cousin and wife, Fred and Elie Peterson of Lewiston; Donna Downs and granddaughter, Patty Holland of Pembroke, N.H.; Gerry and Joe Shimamura; Juanita and Phil Korhonen; Jim and Mary Cobb; Jean Grover; Debbie Goff and Kirsten Arsenault of Rumford;

Michele Huston, Rumford; Ken and Barbara Wakefield; Mary Stone and Willie Coolidge; Doug and Sue Bane, Palmyra; Vera Cross; Carolyn Colby; Ann Patten; Violet Palmer, Lacey, Justin and Zac; Rhonda Mitchell; Ann Fitzmorris; Owen and Debbie Brown; the Rev. John Grant; Bill Shimamura; David and Diane Thurston.

High Street

West Paris by Russell Yates
Howdy friends. This is Tuesday morning, the 15th of July, and it is a wet morning here on High Street.

The Archie Lovejoy family spent the Fourth of July at their camp on North Pond with other relatives and friends. Some of the Haverinen family attended, also Helena Barlett from The Bethel House, and Mary Lovejoy's mother and husband, the Raymond Macks.

Marsha Baxter was a caller at the Lovejoy home on Sunday.

Mary and Hope Lovejoy visited Marsha Baxter of Oxford on Sunday.

Mary Lovejoy was one of the faithful officers at Alder River Grange Friday.

There will be a dance at Locke Mills Town Hall on July 26, with music by The Richard Felt Orchestra. Old-time songs make for good dancing.

COMMUNITY CALENDAR

To submit events for the Community Calendar, you may bring in your copy to The Bethel Citizen or call the office at 824-2444, by noon on Mondays.

SMITH REUNION

Descendants of Simon and Maryann McKeen Smith (late of Stow) will hold their annual reunion on Aug. 3, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., at Fryeburg Fairgrounds in the Forestry Building, with a potluck lunch at noon and musical entertainment throughout the afternoon. Families are asked to bring enough food to feed their group and add it to the table. Also welcomed will be genealogical and photographic material to display.

For more information, contact Anne at 207-935-3160 or Barb at 603-694-3623.

Notices have been mailed, but due to address changes several have been returned. The Reunion Committee should be given complete and correct addresses.

MIDDLE INTERVALE MEETING HOUSE SOCIETY

Due to lack of attendance, the annual membership meeting has been moved to Thursday, July 24, at 7 p.m. at the Meeting House. It is essential that a vote be taken concerning a new coat of exterior paint. Also on the agenda: discussion of requests for commemorative plaques, forming the search for new officers and board of directors; and post-meeting membership survey via mail.

All members are urged to attend.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

The 1997 Bethel Historical Society Annual Fund Campaign was launched this week to raise funds to offset current expenses. Each year the society raises money to help keep its budget balanced and to assist in paying for building maintenance, printing costs, programming, and office supplies among other ongoing expenditures. Last year the society raised the largest sum ever from a record number of donors.

The campaign is again headed by Margaret Joy Tibbels, who is assisted once more by Barbara D. Brown, John B. Head, Alden T.

Kennett and Louise Lincoln.

Founded in 1966, the society is western Maine's largest and most comprehensive historical agency. A thousand members strong, the organization's activities include monthly meetings, lectures, workshops, special events, educational programs for students and adults, and publications. Its Broad Street headquarters, the Dr. Moses Mason House, contains a period house museum, meeting and exhibit space, and research facilities.

Anyone wishing to make a tax-deductible contribution is invited to send it to the society at P.O. Box 12, Bethel, ME 04217-0012. Those with questions are invited to call 824-2908 or 1-800-824-2910, or e-mail: history@bdc.bethel.me.us. These gifts may be given in memory of or in honor of a loved one or special person.

The summer meeting of the Oxford County League of Historical Societies and Museums will be hosted by the Otisfield Historical Society on Saturday, July 26, 2 p.m. at the home of David and Jean Hankins, 202 Scribner Hill Road, Otisfield. Jean Hankins will speak on the town farms of Otisfield. She is becoming one of the leading authorities on the history of poverty in Maine. Her essay, "A Cage for John Sawyer: The Poor of Otisfield, Maine," published in "Maine History" in 1994, won Maine Historical Society's Baxter Award for the best essay published during that year in the quarterly. Mrs. Hankins, who holds a Ph.D. in history from the University of Connecticut, also has delivered papers on the poor and town farms at the annual conferences held at Washburn-Norlands in Livermore. Anyone interested in attending this meeting is cordially invited to attend.

The 17th annual Sudbury Canada Days will be held on Aug. 7-10. Anyone wishing to participate in demonstrating or exhibiting an old-time craft should call Lorrie Hoch at 836-3011. The Ancient Ones re-creating 18th century life will be set up in the back yard of the Dr. Moses Mason House throughout the weekend and Old Grey Goose will be performing on Saturday afternoon in concert and hold a contra dance in the evening. A wide variety of heritage-oriented activities are being planned for the celebration. Anyone wishing further information is encouraged to call the society.

BETHEL SENIOR CITIZENS

The Bethel Senior Citizens Club met July 16 at Linnell Motel and Conference Center in Rumford with 74 present. In the absence of president Helen Saunders, the meeting was conducted by vice president Louise Twitchell. Helen is recovering from surgery.

Reports were given by the treasurer, Colleen Boyd, and Rudy Royer on the silver saver jars. Members should get their jars in so the cash drawing can be held in September.

The door prize was won by Betty Perkins, and Doris Fraser won the 50/50 raffle.

Jane Hosterman introduced Booth Wainscoat, a medical student who is at the Bethel Family Health Center. He is working with the center to improve health care for senior citizens. He passed out a survey with questions to be answered and suggestions that one might have to improve health care for senior citizens.

After the blessing, given by Rudy Royer, a delicious roast pork dinner was served. The birthday cake, made by Hometown Bakery, was served with ice cream for dessert.

Jane Hosterman introduced Linda Hooker and deputy Roland Castonguay from the Oxford County Sheriff's Department, who spoke on crimes against senior citizens and what can be done to prevent them. They are forming a task force which will include senior citizens from all over Oxford County to get ideas on what they need.

It was reported that Muriel Faudi of the Sunshine Committee had sent 20 birthday cards and four get-well cards in July.

A survey was passed out for ideas on trips, meetings and programs to be returned next meeting.

Next meeting will be the annual picnic at Powell's campground in Hanover on Aug. 13. The club will furnish hot dogs, hamburgers, drinks, plates. Members are to bring a salad or something to go with hot dogs and hamburgers. There will be a Brown Bag Auction. Please bring your own chair.

Doris S. Burris, 86, formerly of West Bethel, died Friday, July 4, 1997, at her home in Indianantic, Fla. Although she was in poor health since her CVA in 1991, Franklin E. Burris, her husband, was able to care for her at home with intermittent assistance from his Floridian daughters.

Doris and Frank had moved to West Bethel, Frank's home town, in 1939, a year after their marriage and lived there until their move to Indianantic in 1974.

Survivors include her husband; six daughters, June Blankenship of Indianantic, Gloria Hopkins of St. Augustine, Fla., Cynthia Waugh of Melbourne, Fla., Linda Watson of Kearney, Neb., Margaret Wilson of Valencia, Calif., and Mary Lockwood of Seminole, Fla.; one son, Franklin J. Burris of Solon, Iowa; 17 grandchildren; and 9 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday, July 7, at the Community Chapel of Melbourne Beach, Fla.

HELEN S. HARRIS

Helen S. Harris, 84, of Auburn, formerly of Livermore, died Saturday evening, July 19, 1997, at Clover Manor Health Care in Auburn.

She was born in Somerville, Mass., Oct. 21, 1912, the daughter of Rowland and Alma Shepherd Whittet.

She graduated from Wakefield High School, Worcester State

Teachers College, and received her master's in education from Clark University. During World War II she was a lieutenant commander in the U.S. Navy WAVES.

On Dec. 21, 1945, she married Charles B. Harris. He died in November 1967.

For many years she taught at Jay High School.

She enjoyed gardening and had operated a tree farm.

She had worked as a Literacy Volunteer and was also a volunteer for the Abused Women's Advocacy Project.

She was a member of the First Congregational Church of Yarmouth, the AARP, the WAVE

Officers Association, Maine and National Retired Teachers Association, National Education Association, Small Woodlot Owners Association, and had been active in the Livermore-Livermore Falls Historical Society.

Survivors include a daughter, Carol Cooper of Andover; two sons, Charles Harris of Stafford, Va., and John Harris of Hesston, Pa.; seven grandchildren; three great-grandchildren.

Graveside services will be held Wednesday, July 23, 1 p.m., at Gracelawn Memorial Park, Auburn. Those wishing may make donations to Alzheimer's Association, 86 Pleasant Hill Road, Scarborough, ME 04074.

THANK YOU

A very special thanks to my tenants, neighbors and the Gilead Fire Department for their quick and efficient response to the fire at the Freedom Square Apartments on July 7, 1997.

Card of Thanks

THANKS Coach, Jolene Shimamura, for a great season!

From your Softball Team

Card of Thanks

We would like to thank everyone for their support, for all the donations, cards, food, thoughts and prayers, and words of encouragement during my time out. A special thanks to family and businesses for their extra effort and support.

Brian, Sue and Kids

Card of Thanks

I would like to thank all of the people that gave their time and energy to me during my recent illness and recuperation. I would especially like to thank the Rumford Point Church for the chicken BBQ held in my honor and for the people that put the donation in the cans at local stores. I would also like to thank my family and friends for being there for me.

Thank You!

Lee Barlow
